Description

Earth Mountain Education Farm is a 400 acre environmental education center nestled in unique canyons of the Sangre de Cristo Range and the beautiful Wahatoya Mountains, at an elevation of 8,500 feet. We share our home with black bear, elk, deer, coyote, fox, porcupine, mountain lion, and bobcat, to name but a few friends. These canyons are ideal for learning and connecting with the many diverse flora and fauna that are abundant. Earth Mountain's 40 acre base camp offers a wealth of learning opportunities since we are a living example of a working sustainable farm. The surrounding acres present many hiking trails and overnight experiences.
